

<The episodes begins with the three guys entering the base, the warthog slowly pulling to a stop. Jones and Collins exit first, slowly walking towards the stairs>

O'Brian: Come on guys, cheer up. We are back home.

Collins: Home? This place is a death trap!

Jones: -mumbles-

O'Brian: This has been our home for a few years now. No dangerous things have happened besides what happened to us a couple days ago. And that day we didn't even get that seriously hurt and none of us died.

Collins: Hurt...Hurt! One of us was hit by a bunch of grenades. Two of us were knocked out and... -looks at Jones- Well let's just say three of us got injured by whatever figure was here.

Jones: -mumbles-

Collins: And what are you mumbling about?

Jones: -sniffs- I am not going to be a criminal...

O'Brian: There was never a chance you could be a criminal anyways Jones.

Jones: Says you! -runs up stairs and exits to his room-

Collins: For the way he treats women... I sometimes imagine him being a girl under that armor.

O'Brian: You imagine him, being a girl? Collins... are you gay?

Collins: I certainly am not...

<with that said, Kelen enters driving her mongoose and stops next to the warthog and walks towards the two guys>

Kelen: Nice to be home right?

Collins: Says you!

<Collins then runs up the stairs as well and goes into his room>

Kelen: That was, unexpected.

O'Brian: I would give them a couple of hours until they calm down. They are still shaken up from the incident the other day.

Kelen: I'm sure. Have you figured out what attacked us?

O'Brian: No. I do have an idea, but...

Kelen: You cannot be thinking about that.

O'Brian: It is the only explanation though.

<the camera then zooms away from them, focusing in on the two of them like someone is slowly walking up to them>

Kelen: It is not even logical to be thinking like that.

O'Brian: Logical? Back there you thought there was some invisible door!

Kelen: Because there is!

<the figure quickly comes out of active camo and Jasper is standing next to the two of them>

Jasper: Hey guys.

O'Brian: GHOST!

<O'Brian begins shooting at Jasper and Kelen shoots as well. Jasper is ducking and running around so he does not get hit>

Jasper: Guys! Guys! It's me!

<Jasper then hides behind a crate as the shots begin to stop>

Kelen: Jasper? Is that really you?

O'Brian: I told you!

Kelen: You told me what? That Jasper was still alive and secretly hiding around the base somewhere?

O'Brian: No. I was talking about Jasper being a ghost! He had been the one attacking us. Wanting to get his revenge. He was the cause of us being attacked!

Jasper: No it wasn't.

O'Brian: Yes you were!

Jasper: Noooooooooooooooooooo

Kelen: Jasper stop hiding behind the crate and come talk to us.

<Jasper gets up and then his active camo turns on as he walks towards them>

O'Brian: -raises his weapon and begins going in circles, almost like he is searching every area- Where did he go? Where did he go?

Kelen: Can you please exit your active camo?

Jasper: I can't...

Kelen: You are telling me you cannot exit active camo.

Jasper: Yes...

Kelen: You have got to be kidding me.

O'Brian: -begins to calm down- Jasper... is here right?

Jasper: Yeah.

<Jasper suddenly exits active camo and he is standing right in front of O'Brian>

O'Brian: GHOS-

Kelen: Stop it!

<Jasper takes a few steps away and stands next to the two of them>

O'Brian: Where have you been?

Jasper: I have been here the whole time.

O'Brian: No you haven't. We sent you out on a mission to scope the area and you just vanished.

Kelen: Seeing as his armor effect is active camo, I would hope he could vanish.

O'Brian: Not what I meant. You never came back from the mission, so we thought you were dead.

Jasper: I did come back. Because... I am right here.

Kelen: Why didn't you try contacting us?

Jasper: I have tried.

<there are a few flashbacks then. The first being Jasper behind O'Brian and Kelen, right as Kelen begins asking O'Brian about his new helmet. The camera zooms in on him, showing that he is in active camo. The next is Jasper hiding behind the computer during Jones's speech, still in active camo. The camera zooms in on him again, showing that he is there. The last being Jasper still in active camo and hitching a ride on the back of Kelen's mongoose, again the camera zooms in on him>

Kelen: I thought I felt the mongoose get a bit heavier.

Jasper: Every time I tried talking to you guys, someone interrupted me or I was just not heard.

O'Brian: Well it is good to have you back Jasper.

Jasper: Thanks... even though I have been back the whole time.

Kelen: Let's just forget about that. It is nice to have you back Jasper.

O'Brian: So were you the one who attacked us?

Jasper: Why would I attack my own teammates?

O'Brian: Because you are a ghos-

Kelen: Give up on the ghost story. Jasper is here in front of us and he did not attack us. And seeing as we are not being attacked now, whatever was here is now gone.

Jasper: Wait, what attacked you?

O'Brian: We have no idea, but Kelen is right. Seems like we are safe now.

Kelen: And on that note I am going to my room.

<Kelen then leaves to go to her room>

O'Brian: Hey, do you have any idea about an invisible door back near the lake?

Jasper: No clue.

O'Brian: Maybe she is crazy...

Jasper: If Kelen hears you saying that.

O'Brian: I know, but she kept talking about an invisible door and how that was our way out of the base.

Jasper: That seems like a bunch of who ha.

<Jasper then enters active camo>

O'Brian: You're righ- hey where did you go?

Jasper: I am still here.

O'Brian: Oh. You should really fix your armor.

Jasper: Yeah... except I don't know how.

<Jones and Collins then come running down the stairs and start huffing and puffing near O'Brian and Jasper>

Jones: Mon-mon

Collins: MONSTER!

<Collins then faints>

O'Brian: Monster?

Jones: Yeah. Collins and I were...

<there is a distant scream>

Jones: Hey where is Kelen?

<the episode ends>
